If they could find original Union men and would give them the preference, we should like it better. But we suspect that nearly every Georgian intelligently fit to hold office—the brave old Joshua Hill always excepted—served the Con-federacy in some way; and there is at least this consideration, which may help reconcile us to what is done, that every northern man who goes South declares that the most sound and reli-able-Union men there now are those

The Mobile Register deplores their self-banishment as the "illegitimate offspring of the criminal alliance, long since existing between vandalic cupidity and blind, nefurious familicism." The Register editor ought to have gone with them, if he is in as bad a state of mind as his words indicate. a state of mind as his words indicate. It would be a good thing for the South, and the whole country, if all who hold out against the generous policy of the Government would migrate to Brazil, Partagonia, or some other congonial re-

The opinion of the Tribune that justice requires the complete sub-version of the President's policy may be honestly held, but it can hardly be honest in claiming that the people de-manded this in the late elections.

It is stated that the real point of dif-ference between the O'Mahoney and Roberts factions of the Fenians, is in the fact that the former oppose an invasion of Canada, and the latter favors 'it. Meantime, the victims are bleeding, and the O'Mahoney and the O'Robertses are living like fighting cocks. SENSATIONAL correspondents at Washington are constantly dwelling on the chances of a disagreement between the President and the Radicals. There is no more danger of it than there is of any other improbable thing. The last statement is that the President "has re-cently declared that he would not, under any circumstances, be a candidate for re-election." That is simply a newspaper reporter's stupidity. We don't believe the President said any-thing about it. If he did it was con-trary to his usual good sense.

That this House cordially concurs in the views of the Secretary of the Treasury in relation to the necessity of a contraction of the currency with a view to as early a resumption of specie payments as the business interests of the country will permit; and we hereby pledge co-operative action to this end as specify as practicable.

"Two lovers to plan the building of a pleasure-house on a certain spot of ground, but various seeming accidents prevent it. Once they find a group of miscrable children; once it is the seem where crime is plotted; at last the dead body of one of the lovers or of a dear friend is found there; and instead of a pleasure-house, they build a marble tomb. The moral—that there is no place on earth fit for the site of a pleasure-house, because there is no spot that ure-house, because there is no spot the may not have been saddened by hums grief, stained by crime, or hallowed be death. It might be three friends whelm it, instead of two lovers; and the dearest one dies."

Postmaster General's Circular

Postmaster General Dennison has in ed a circular to the managers of the railroad companies, with reference to the winter irregularities of the mail service. Governor Dennison having been thoroughly educated, by practica experience in railway management, comprehends fully the main cause of such irregularities, and points out the remedy. It is to be hoped the railway managers will carry out the recom-

THE MEN TO MARRY .- Punch gives some good advice to women in looking for suitable husbands. Among other things he says:

things he says:

"The man who don't take tea, ill treats the cat, takes snuff, and stands with his back to the fire, is a brute whom I would not advise you to marry on any consideration, either for love or money, but decidedly not for love. But the man who, when tea is over, is discovered to have had none, is very sure to make the best husband. Patience like his deserves being rewarded with the best of wives and the best of mothers-in-law. My dears, when you meet with such a man, do your best to marry him. In the severest winter he would not mind going to bed first."
